

The Unseen God

The scriptures speak of the unseen God which our senses do not observe. They speak of an almighty, eternal, invisible God which we should fear (Deuteronomy 6:24, Psalm 31:19, Q 67:12). A God who is capable of great wonders and deserving praise, honour and glory (Colossians 1:15, 1 Timothy 1:17). The Quran speaks of the same eternal and absolute God (Q 112:2); all-encompassing, all-knowing, the First and Last (Q 57:3). The Quran reminds believers that to believe in the “unseen” (Q 2: 3, 67:12), the God, we cannot see for “vision perceives Him not” (Q 6:103).

The Scriptures, including the Quran, speak of ‘the God’, the one and only God, creator of Heaven and Earth, whose characteristics are:

Omnipotence – all powerful, the all mighty, making all things possible (Matt 19:26), sustaining all things by his powerful word (Hebrew 1:3, Q 46:33).

Omniscience - all-knowing (Ps. 139:1-4, Q 2:115), who knows the end from the beginning (Isaiah 46:10), and “acquainted with all things” (Q 6:103). “Who knew me before I was born” (Jeremiah 1:5).

Omnipresence – all present. God is everywhere, all places in heaven and earth, in darkness and in light (Ps.39:7-12), God is near (Jeremiah 23:23-24, Q 2:115).

Omnificent - unlimited, infinite. Unlimited in power, knowledge and presence. God is greater than his creation; his glory is above the heavens (Psalm 113:4). "Behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain You" (1 Kings 8:27).

We can say God is omnificent, or we can say that God is infinite, for God is beyond our understanding. The universe is immense, and beyond our seeing, yet God is greater than his creation. God fills the heavens and earth (Jeremiah 23:24), and the heavens cannot contain him (2 Chronicles 2:6, 1 Kings 8:27). God cannot be measured or counted. He is the First and Last, with no beginning and no end.

No one has seen God

The infinite, invisible, unseen God has declared, "You cannot see my face, for no man shall see me and live" (Exodus 33:20).

Despite God having spoken to Adam in the Garden and Abraham seeing visions of God and angels (Genesis 12:7; 15:1; 17:1; 18:1) and Jacob wrestling with an angel (Genesis 32:22-32), God continued to remain unseen. Even when Moses heard God speaking from the midst of the fire, Moses saw no form (Deuteronomy 4:12).

Many of the prophets of Israel also saw visions of God. Moses, Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and the seventy elders of Israel all saw a vision of the God of Israel standing on a paved sapphire stone (Exodus 24:10). Solomon (1 Kings 3:5; 9:2; 11:9), Micaiah (1 Kings 22:19-22), Isaiah (Isa. 6:1-5), Ezekiel (Ezek. 1:26-28), Amos (Amos 7:7), Daniel (Dan. 7:9-14 and the disciple John (Rev. 5:1-8) also saw God in visions.

Yet despite God appearing as an angel and in clouds of smoke, in fire, and in dreams and visions, John declared, "No man hath seen God at any time" John 1:18

John continued to echo these words throughout his Gospel; "No man hath seen God at any time" John 6:46, 1 John 4:12.

Paul also wrote, "He alone is immortal and dwells in unapproachable light. No one has ever seen Him, nor can anyone see Him". 1 Timothy 6:16

The Quran also speaks of the unseen God, reminding us that God remains eternally unseen. Even when the living and the dead are resurrected to new life, we will not see the invisible God. The Quran says: "nor can they perceive when they are raised." Q 27:65

Why we cannot see God.

Not only did Job marvel how God could pass by undetected. (Job 9:11), but Jesus reminded the unbelieving Pharisees they have never heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form (John 5:37). The apostle Paul also stated that God “cannot be seen” (1 Timothy 6:16).

It is impossible to physically see the invisible, infinite, intangible, unseen God because every quality or characteristic of God is invisible to our eyes. God is Life, Love, Light and Spirit, all of which cannot be seen.

God is Life. God gives life to all living (Deuteronomy 30:20, Nehemiah 9:6, Q 2:28), yet we cannot see life. We can only look for the signs of life. We look for signs to distinguish the sleeping from the unconscious and the living from the dead. We look for movement, listen for breathing or feel for a heartbeat. We see signs of life but cannot see life.

God is Love (1 John 4:8), but love is invisible. We can see signs of love; we listen for the language of love and may notice the offspring or the fruit of love but cannot see Love.

God is Light (Psalm 27:1, 1 John 1:5, Q 24:35), but again, we cannot see light. We see neither infrared, ultraviolet light, X-rays nor visible light. We speak of visible Light, but even visible light is not visible to our eyes. We see neither light nor reflected light. What we observe is the interaction of light with an object. We see light beams in clouds of water vapour, dust and smoke, but in space where there is no matter, we only see darkness.

God is Spirit and we are to worship him in spirit and truth (John 4:24). Our spirit comes from God and returns to God when we die (Ecclesiastes 12:7, Acts 7:59). But we cannot see Spirit.

We cannot see spirit or light or love or light; instead, what we see, is the interaction of the unseen with the physical world.

Jesus compared the Spirit with the wind (John 3:8). He said you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. The unseen wind can exert great force, blowing the leaves and moving trees and boats and creating swirling clouds of dust. Yet, we neither see or hear the wind; what we do see and hear is the interaction of the wind with creation.

If God were visible, we would be blind

Like Job, we also marvel at the invisible God, but our inability to see God does not mean he is far from us. God is not separate from us, nor is he hiding from us.

Job said, the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind is in his hand (Job 12:10). The Scriptures say the earth is filled with his glory (Isaiah 6:3, Psalm 72:19).

An infinite God cannot distance himself from us, nor can we distance ourselves from God.

The apostle Paul said God is not far from every one of us. In him we live, and move, and have our being (Acts 17:27-28).

We exist in God as a goldfish exists in a bowl of water. In the same way that the fish lives its life in the water, we also exist and live our lives within an unseen infinite God. A fish might see other creatures in the water, or notice air bubbles or rocks or plants, but it does not see the water which gives it life. For a fish to see the water in which it swims, it must exit or separate itself from the water, but to do so means death.

The spirit of God in which we exist is like the invisible water that gives the fish its life. But if the water or the spirit were visible, then all of us would exist in a cloud, hidden from sight. Meaning we would be blind in a pool of darkness.

To view an object and to see its form, we must first separate ourselves from what we wish to see. But it is impossible to take ourselves outside of God, even if we could, we would die.

Consider too how the size of an object also determined the distance it is viewed.

To see a pearl and admire its size and shape we bring it close to our eyes, but the larger the object, the further away we hold it. A book might be held at an arms-length but a larger object such as a house or even a mountain is admired at a greater distance. The distance we step away to gain the best view, is proportional to the size of the object.

So, to see an infinite God, to see God's face, whose eyes and lips and nose would be infinite in size, would require that we stand an infinite distance away. An impossible task since we cannot distance ourselves at all from God. God is life (Deuteronomy 30:20), and Man cannot see God and live (Exodus 33:20).

How do we see God?

Despite remaining unseen, the invisible God does want to be known and has made himself known. God invites us to come into a relationship with Him, to know Him and to trust him. He has spoken through the. He has performed great signs and miracles and has shown visions and dreams of what is to come. God has given us his word has fulfilled his promises he has made to his people.

Man is created in the image of the infinite God and continues to be made into his likeness. Man is different to the angels of Heaven and the beasts of the Earth. Neither beasts nor angels can claim to be made into the likeness or created in the image of God. Angels can take the form of a man, yet they are not created in God's image, nor are they made in God's likeness. They can speak with both Man and God, but angels cannot empathise with our suffering and do not have compassion for our troubles. When the angel replied to Joshua's question, he declared he was neither for, nor against him (Joshua 5:14).

While Jesus confirmed, "no one had seen God," he also stated that it is possible to see the Father. Jesus tells us "Anyone who has seen Me has seen the Father" John 14:9.

Jesus did not declare that he was God but declared himself to be the Son of God. The finite physical image of the invisible, unseen infinite God (Colossians 1:15). Jesus said to the Pharisees: "You have never heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form" John 5:37. The Pharisees had not seen the infinite God, nor could recognise the face of God in Jesus because they were not "of God". Jesus said, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me" John 10:27.

When Thomas' touched the wounds of the risen Jesus and declared, "My Lord and my God" (John 20:28), he was not stating Jesus himself was God. Instead, Thomas, realised that Jesus had indeed been raised from the dead. He recognised that Jesus was not only the Messiah and the Son of God, but was, as Isaiah and the Gospel writers had declared, a man filled with the Holy Spirit.

Jesus was the first-born of the dead, the Branch spoken of by the prophet Isaiah and our King and Lord.

Jesus was born the Son of God and remains the Son of God. Jesus is a man filled with the Holy Spirit, in whom the fullness of God was pleased to dwell (Colossians 1:19, 2:9, 2 Corinthians 5:19).

"And the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD." Isaiah 11:2

"The Spirit of the Lord GOD is on Me, because the LORD has anointed Me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent Me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives and release from darkness to the prisoners" Isaiah 61:1

“Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.”
John 6:46

Jesus tells his sheep, those who are “of God”, that they have seen and will see God.
“And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.” Revelation 22:4

When Believers are raised to eternal life, they will not see three Gods or three persons. Neither will they see the infinite God. Yet as the Quran says, we will meet him (Q 84:6). It reminds us that All will see God and we are to seek the countenance of Allah (Q 76:9). When Jesus comes on the Last Day, all will be, “looking at their Lord” (Q 75:23).

We shall look on the face of Jesus and see the face of God (Q 92:20, John 14:9).

Praise your Lord [Jesus] when you arise, (Q 52:48), for all things perish except his own face (Q 28:88). Seek the face of your Lord [Jesus] (Q 92:20) or ask yourself ‘which of the favours of your Lord will you deny (Q 55:25).

In Jesus, we will see the finite image of the infinite God and it will be the face of the Son and the Father and the Holy Spirit. As the Prophet Isaiah said:

“For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government will be upon His shoulders. And He will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace”. Isaiah 9:6
